

Interactive Lecture

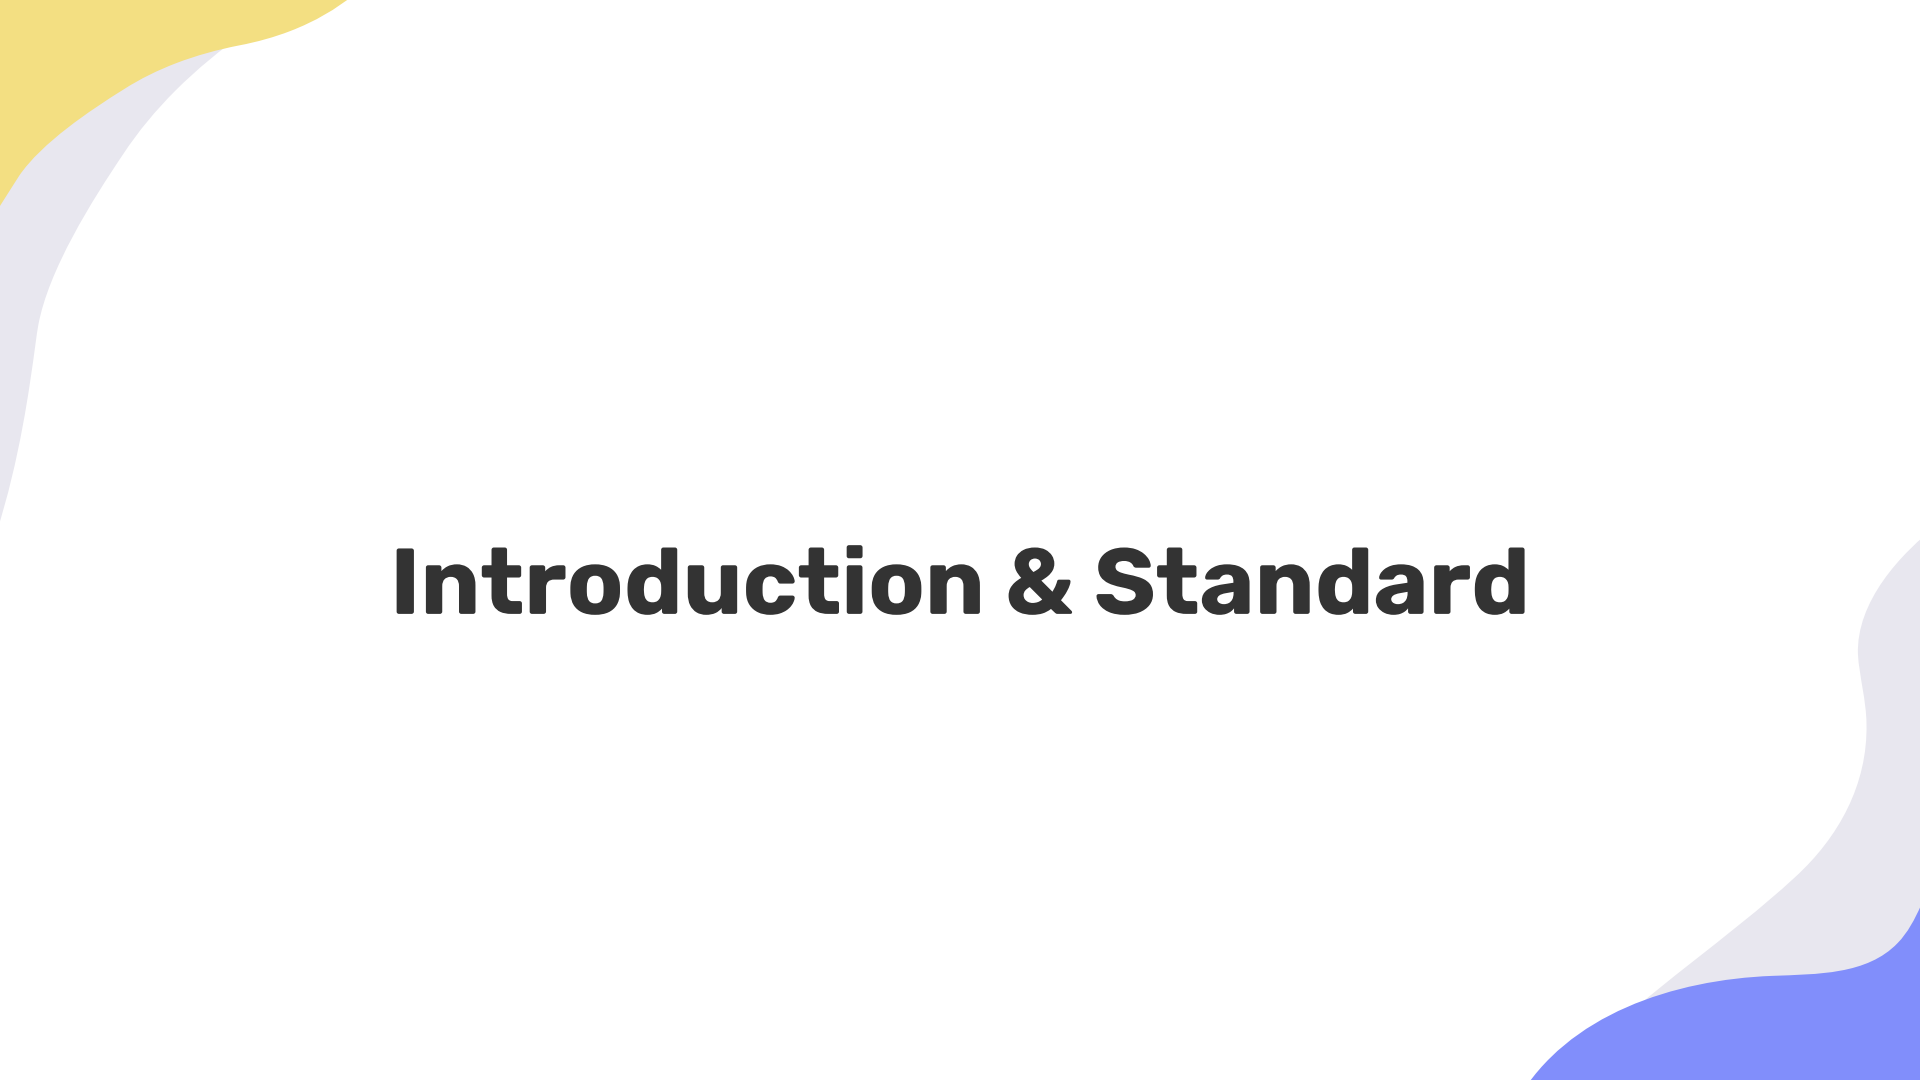

By:

EOM 203.03

Discuss Effective Communication In A Peer Setting

Level 2 IG

30 min

Introduction & Standard

Table of contents

01

Communication is Fundamental to Influencing Others

02

Three Styles of Communication

03

Assertive
Communication

You can describe the topic
of the section here

01

Communication is Fundamental to
Influencing Others

How Communication is fundamental to Influencing Others

- Communication permits the flow of ideas from one individual to another individual/group or vice versa
- Communication Consists of 3 parts, Sending, receiving and responding to a message.
- Includes both verbal and non-verbal

Non-Verbal Communication

Non-Verbal Communication uses many channels for sending and receiving information.

Shows your attitude towards the receiver and the message.

- Eye Contact
- Body Posture
- Gestures
- Facial Expressions
- Voice Tone and Volume Changes

And the most important thing: the audience won't miss the point of your presentation

Confirmation Questions

Q1. Why are communication skills a fundamental part of leadership?

A1. Communication skills are a fundamental part of leadership because they permit the flow of ideas from one individual to another or to a group, and vice versa.

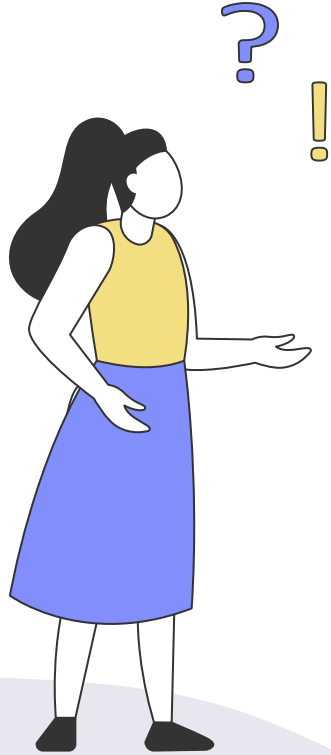

Q2. List some aspects of non-verbal communication

A2. Some aspects of non-verbal communication include:

- eye contact;
- body posture;
- gestures;
- facial expressions; and
- voice tone, volume changes.

Q3. What are the 3 components of communication?

A3. Communication consists of three things: sending, receiving and responding to a message.

02

Three Styles of Communication

Aggressive Communicator

Someone who puts their own wants/needs ahead of everyone else, and they often ignore or make fun of other people's concerns.

- Talking over others
- Sarcastic/Demeaning/Threatening comments
- Narrow-minded
- Body language makes you physically uncomfortable (leaning over you, standing too close)

Passive Communicator

A person that puts other people's wants and needs ahead of their own and often denies what they want/need.

- Hardly ever say what they want or need (no opinion)
 - Lets others make their decisions
 - Avoids conflict and disagreement at all costs
- Drops hints rather than directly request for something they want/need

Assertive Communicator

A person who is an assertive communicator uses skills based off of mutual respect. They work towards outcomes that satisfy everyone.

- Open and honest about what they're feeling and thinking
- Direct requests if they want something done, leaves option for people to say no
 - Respects themselves and others
- Are able to disagree without creating bad feelings

Confirmation Questions

Q1. Name the 3 styles of communication.

A1. The three styles of communication are aggressive, passive and assertive.

Q2. What are some characteristics of assertive communicators?

A2. Assertive communicators often:

- are open and honest about what they are thinking and feeling;
- makes direct requests if they want something done, leaving the option to say “no”;
- respect themselves and show respect to others; and
- are able to disagree without creating bad feelings.

Q3. Assertive Communication usually results in what?

A3. Assertive communication usually results in clear and open communication.

03

Assertive Communication

Assertive Communication

Assertive people use non-verbal communication skills to gather information, check their information, and understand requests given to them.

These skill are:

- make appropriate eye contact;
- sit or stand comfortably erect;
- use open gestures to support their comments;
- speak in a clear, steady, firm tone of voice; and
- maintain open, unchanging and relaxed facial expressions that accurately reflect their thoughts

Using “I” Statements

i.e I think, I need, I feel

“I” Statements show...

- You own your messages and the speaker speaks for themselves.
- Suggestions are not weighted with advice, commands, shoulds
- Feedback is constructive and free from blame.

Active Listening Skills

Uses active listening skills including

- Repeating the conversation back to the speaker in their own words
 - Not talking about themselves
 - Letting the speaker take the lead
- Concentrating fully on speaker's words
 - Asking for clarification
 - Allowing pauses. silence

Confirmation Questions

Q1. Give three examples of “I” statements.

Q2. Give some examples of non-verbal communication skills used by assertive people.

Q3. Give some examples of active listening skills.

End Of Lesson Conformation

Q1. Communication consists of three things; name them.

Q2. What are some characteristics of assertive communicators?

Q3. Why do assertive people use “I” statements?

Summary

