TP1 - Define Sponsor and Sponsoring Committee

Sponsor and Sponsoring Committee

Sponsor

An organisation or group of people who got accepted by the Chief of Defence Staff to responsibly organise, aid, and help administrate the cadet squadron with the Canadian Forces and the supervisory sponsor.

Sponsoring Committee/Branch

A sponsoring committee is associated with the league and has members approved by league policy to complete the tasks required to support the squadron. A sponsoring committee is made of representatives of sponsors or people from the community.

TP2 - Describe the Local
Sponsoring Body

Local Sponsoring Body

Local sponsoring bodies are usually organisations made in the community. There can be more than one organisation sponsoring a single squadron. A sponsoring committee is formed to represent the sponsors, and it consists of people representing/leading the sponsors in the community.

Examples of Local Sponsors

- Royal Canadian Legion (RCL). Largest veterans-based community service organization in the country and contributes millions of dollars and voluntary hours to help Canadians.
- Royal Canadian Air Force Association (aka Air Force Association of Canada). Non-profit aerospace and community service organization sponsor and support cadets and other community activities.
- Lions Clubs. Internationally based and the world's largest service club organization.
- A Rotary Club. A rotary club mainly helps by improving servicing to make organisations successful
- A Parents' Committee. A parents committee is usually made up of parents of cadets. Parents in the committee help the squadron.

110 Squadron is sponsored by 408/437 Wing Royal Canadian Air Force Association

Local Sponsor Positions & Secondary Sponsors

A sponsoring body consists of multiple positions to split the responsibilities of the sponsor to people with the skill set for each position:

- Chairperson: Leader; Maintains information of the entire sponsoring body.
- Secretary: Keeps records in the squadron
- Treasurer: Handles money and financial records

Some squadrons have a secondary sponsor that may assist in duties such as fundraising for the corps.

TP3 – Explain the Role and Responsibilities of the Sponsoring Committee

Role and Responsibilities of the Sponsor

The sponsor has to carry out their responsibilities according to an agreement in order for the cadet program to run smoothly in a squadron. These include:

- Fundraising – The sponsor organizes fundraising activities with permission from the commanding officer.
- Recruiting Cadets – The sponsor advertises the squadron and cadet program to help gain new cadets.
- Attracting Officers to the Squadron – The sponsor campaigns to attract adults in the community to become officers/ civilian instructors (CIs) based on the squadron's needs.
- Screening Volunteers – The sponsor identifies and conducts the screening process of potential volunteers and helps with the application process and reports it to the league.

Role and Responsibilities of the Sponsor (Continued)

- Providing Adequate Office and Training Facilities – The sponsor is responsible for providing adequate office and training facilities if they aren't already provided.
- Participating in Senior Cadet Rank Appointments – The sponsor helps with the position selection process for senior cadets.
- Participating in Selections for Summer training – The sponsor is responsible for cooperating with the squadron CO to promote summer courses and exchanges and to participate in the selection process.
- Participating in Selections for Honours and Awards – The sponsor participates in the joint selection process for honours and awards from the league.
